

Christmann & Pfeifer Construction

- Challenge: CHRISTMANN & PFEIFER is an internationally active group of companies focusing on the world of construction. Their expertise ranges from engineering and highly-complex industrial construction projects, to metal and steel construction as well as building material independent turnkey projects and planning services. Construction and sales staff needed access to files on the corporate network when on the go.
- Solution: With Cortado Corporate Server, staff at construction sites or with customers can access technical drawings and contract documents with their iPads and use them for their work on-site without any further delay.
- Quote: “Cortado Corporate Server offers our employees the ability to easily access important documents on the go. They can react on the road quickly, and without having to seek the help of back office staff.” Thomas Weigel, System Administrator, Christmann & Pfeifer Construction
