

Global Insurance*

An open ear for customers, at any time and any place

- Mission: Global Insurance is a global insurance group, whose sales and customer service model is based on independent insurance agents. The goal was to make the process of claims settlement and inquiries as up-to-date and simple as possible. To do this, all insurance agents needed mobile access to corporate data via a smartphone or tablet. The autonomy of the individual agencies ruled out complete management of the mobile devices. And since the insurance agents should use social media as a communication channel, a secured container solution would work against the ultimate goal.
- Solution: The new malware inspection of Cortado Corporate Server allows non-integrated devices to access corporate files and at the same time ensures that no viruses or similar malware find their way into the company.
- Testimonial: “Our customers are both astonished and pleasantly surprised that they can reach us at any time through new communication channels. It puts us a step closer to the customer and we keep competitors at bay.” IT worker, Global Insurance
